PERFUSIONIST

A Perfusionist is required to join our team providing Cardiopulmonary Bypass, Circulatory and Extracorporeal Life Support and related services to major medical centres.

The successful applicant will have experience in adult perfusion, and preferably also in intra aortic counterpulsation, cardiopulmonary assist systems, haemodynamic monitoring and perioperative autotransfusion, however additional training in these areas will be provided if required.

Continuing education and professional development are provided.

An attractive remuneration package will be offered according to qualifications and experience.

Applications will be treated confidentially.

Please forward written applications with full curriculum vitae and references to:
